Product Testing Outcome

Rigorous testing was performed across 14 different types of paper from 11 different brands. For each type of paper, four rolls were tested to get a robust data set. On the previous model, jamming occurred .3% of the time, and on the new model it decreased to .01% which is a 97% improvement. Additionally, instances in which the paper didn't rip reduced from 2% to virtually 0%. Lastly, tabbing occurred <1% of the time across over 30,000 sheets of paper.
