New range Valor

Jofel, continuing with its policy of product development and adaptation to the needs and demands of the market, launches its new “Valor” range as an improvement on the “Azur” range, made entirely of high quality and resistant ABS. Its production process is less complex and therefore this translates into a reduction in manufacturing costs, thus expanding the product options for its clients at a national and international level. The “Valor” range is recommended, due to its economy, for places with high influx of people like restaurants, food services, airports, fairgrounds, etc.
